Graphic Designer and Advertising
Art Director

.about me

Passionate about art, movies, music, photography, painting, books, communications, technology, social networks, sports and travel. Curious, self-taught, proactive and restless, I try to improve myself day by day learning to do things I didn't know before, without being afraid of making mistakes, to take responsibility and do the best for the team in which I work.

→ .personal stuff

I'm a calm person, witty, shy but fun. I try to be positive and be thinking about problems. I'm supportive of others, especially when working as a team.

I like to take responsibilities and collaborate in different projects to grow and improve my skills and always achieve something better for everyone.

I like movies, music, sports, art, technology and trends, photography, reading a good book surrounded by nature. I try to enjoy the little things and take advantage of the day to day.

I love to travel, to know other cultures, to have different experiences than usual, to meet people from other parts of the world, to interact with them and to be able to nourish myself with experiences that make me a better person.
